

“Humans Being Humans” A new apparel collection, a new way to save lives

Hello,

Thanks to your help, we have been able to save thousands of lives in and around the Mediterranean. But unfortunately, there are still many miles to sail and many stories to save.

That's why we invite you to discover our new life-saving gifts. The Humans Being Humans line of T-shirts and sweatshirts appeals to the innate nature of human beings: empathy, care, the need to get involved in the defense of lives in danger.

Discover the collection

With this life-saving sweatshirt, you will not only be part of our mission, but you will also be the voice of all the forgotten and invisible people at sea and on land. Join our cause and be part of the solution. What we need most right now is humans being humans.

Get yours

The Humans Being Humans T-shirt conveys such essential human values as empathy and solidarity. Get yourself this unique piece of clothing or surprise the people you love with a gift that can make a significant difference! Together we can be the seeds of change for a better world by returning to our essence: humans being humans.

I want it!

Protecting the lives of people in vulnerable situations is our commitment. We do it with you and thanks to people like you, because we are human and it is part of our nature.

We need each other. They need you.

Help us to continue.

Can you help us?

Donate now

www.openarms.es/en

